School precepts
Love, Respect, Trust
愛 敬 信

This school preserves an old Japanese high school atmosphere, giving students great freedom to govern their events and club activities. This culture has been kept by autonomous students and teachers who have worked hard to support and promote students' autonomy for many generations. The school precept: 愛・敬・信, or Love Respect and Trust (each other), has also been cherished by all.

Student Life

Students are actively involved in club activities, school event committees and the student union, as well as classes. Most of the school events are organized by students. Thus students not only enjoy those extracurricular activities but also learn important social skills through planning and leading those activities.

International Exchange Programs

Showa Senior High School has International Exchange Programs. Students from abroad study and enjoy club activities for one year or so. We welcome students from Earnshaw State College in Australia, and students from many other countries visit our school. They participate in regular classes and other Japanese cultural activities during their homestay with host families of Showa students. Showa students also visit Earnshaw State College in Brisbane, Australia for about two weeks in the summer vacation. Students gain a lot of experience from these cultural exchanges.
